Factsheet - 31 December 2020

Residential Secure Income plc

Overview

- Residential Secure Income plc (LSE: RESI) is a UK REIT listed on the premium segment of the Main Market of the London Stock Exchange with the objective of delivering secure inflation-linked returns by investing in affordable shared ownership, retirement and local authority housing throughout the UK
- ReSI's purpose is to increase the provision of affordable housing by providing long-term capital to developers, housing associations and local authorities. This allows affordable, high quality, safe homes to be delivered while ensuring long-term stability of tenure for residents, and attractive, secure income for shareholders
- Targets secure, long-dated, inflation-linked dividend yield of 5.0% p.a. and a total return in excess of 8.0% p.a.¹

Why affordable and social housing?

Stable, long term, inflation-linked rents

Rent payments rise each year, typically in-line with inflation, offering a secure income stream and potential growth in the assets' value over time.

Supply/demand imbalance from historic undersupply

The National Housing Federation estimate that 145,000 affordable homes are required each year to clear the current backlog of people that need a home and meet future demand, but only c.50,000 have been delivered per year over the last 10 years.

Diversified, diversifying income stream

Affordable residential rents offer diversified counterparty risk, through large numbers of residents and shared owners, resulting in lower overall counterparty risk compared to other real estate investments such as commercial real estate.

Reducing development appetite from traditional providers

94% of affordable housing is currently delivered by not-for-profit housing associations, who are increasingly needing to focus their investment on energy efficiency initiatives, health and safety, and fire safety, meaning new sources of funding are required to deliver affordable housing.

Below market rents ensure ongoing demand

While the UK does not build enough homes to meet rising demand, the homes that are built are increasingly out of reach for middle and lower income households meaning ever increasing demand for affordable homes.

Why ReSI?

Wholly owned Group, Registered Provider of social housing

Investing via a Registered Provider (ReSI Housing Limited), allows ReSI plc to hold and manage regulated affordable housing assets, including grant-supported and Section 106 schemes.⁷

Sustainable investment approach maximises social impact

ReSI's shared ownership Customer and Environmental Charters drive best practice for the shared ownership sector.

Secure rents underpinned by pensions, housing welfare or shared owner stakes

Residents in retirement rental homes pay from their pensions and savings, the local authority housing portfolio is leased to Luton Borough Council and shared owners have ownership stakes in their homes, providing a secure rental income stream.

Long-term investment grade equivalent debt.

ReSI has long-term debt with a weighted average life of 23 years and a weighted average cost of 2.4%. This debt strategy is used most commonly by infrastructure funds and other secure income sectors.

19-year track record in financing and advising social housing

The fund manager's direct parent company, TradeRisks Limited, has been active within the social housing sector for over 19 years as a funding arranger and advisor and, over the last three years, as an investor through ReSI.

Recent news

 - ongoing deployment into ReSI's strong pipeline, including the remainder of our £32m investment target noting that over half will be met by December's Brick By Brick acquisitions
- Net annual rent roll on completed shared ownership homes increased to £1.5m (0.9p per share) reflecting the growing size of the portfolio as well as further progress on occupancy over the quarter
