Performance

In September 2024, the WS Gresham House UK Micro Cap Fund decreased by 5.4%, underperforming the IA UK Smaller Companies sector, which decreased by 3.4%. Positive contributions came from TruFin (+0.8% CTR) following interim results ahead of market expectations due to the stellar performance of its video games label division, Playstack, and two 'viral' titles, Balatro and Abiotic Factor; Gym Group (+0.3% CTR) as interim results saw EBITDA delivery materially ahead of recently upgraded market expectations; and EKF Diagnostics (+0.2% CTR) following robust interim results which saw strong margin expansion and cash generation through effective delivery of cost reduction programmes. The largest detractors were Inspired (-0.8% CTR), despite interim results broadly in line with market expectations and reiterated full year guidance, but caveated by marginal EPS downgrades driven by higher-than-expected interest costs; Franchise Brands (-0.7% CTR) despite interim results in-line with market expectations; and Fintel (-0.6% CTR) despite a robust trading update which disclosed 6% growth in core software-as-a-service (SaaS) revenues and reiterated full-year market guidance.

1. Fund statistics definitions

Volatility is a statistical measurement that, when applied to an investment fund, expresses its volatility, or risk. It shows how widely a range of returns varied from the fund's average return over a particular period.

Alpha is a measure of a fund's over-orunderperformance in comparison to the benchmark of the fund. Alpha represents the extra value the manager's activities have contributed, the greater the alpha, the greater the outperformance.

Beta is a statistical estimate of a fund's volatility in comparison to its benchmark. It depicts how sensitive the fund is to movements in the section of the market that comprises the benchmark.

Sharpe is the level of a fund's return over and above the return of a notional risk-free investment, such as cash or government bonds. The difference in returns is then divided by the fund's standard deviation (volatility). This is an indication of the amount of excess return generated per unit of risk. In general it is considered that the higher the Sharpe ratio, the better.

Information ratio is a risk-adjusted measure of actively managed fund performance. It assesses the degree to which a manager uses skill and knowledge to enhance the fund returns. The higher the information ratio, the better. It is generally considered that a figure of 0.5 reflects a good performance, 0.75 very good, and 1 outstanding.
